

Hall Pass Learning Solutions, LLC (HPLS) has a mission of cultivating confidence and curiosity in children and modeling appropriate behavior helps students to understand the boundaries of the relationship.

HPLS has zero tolerance for abuse or sexual abuse perpetrated on children or vulnerable people.

Inappropriate interaction with children will result in termination of the agreement with the contractor and a report to the police and any other appropriate authorities.

Appropriate displays of affection when working with children and families include:

- A high-five, handshake, fist bump, or elbow touch
- An encouraging pat on the back
- A tap/hand on shoulder to help a student focus
- Handholding if the child requests or initiates it
- Sitting in your lap if the child requests or initiates it
- Caring for a child if they become ill or hurt- taking their temperature/ feeling their forehead, holding an injury to assess treatment, etc.

Inappropriate physical contact or displays of affection when working with children and families include:

- physical force such as grabbing, pushing, hitting, kicking
- overly affectionate touches such as caressing or fondling
- touching a child below his/her waist
- touching a camper in the chest/breast area
- any other inappropriate or sexual interaction even if no physical contact is involved
- cursing, using inappropriate language or content, talking about illegal activity or content
- connecting with children under 18 through social media platforms (this includes private messaging, friending, and following)
- displaying favoritism when working with multiple children at a time